PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA

The use of the Website requires the processing of your personal data. Below you will find detailed information about the purposes and legal grounds for the processing, as well as the duration of the processing and the obligation or voluntariness to provide it.

NEWSLETTER SUBSCRIPTION

Provision of the above-indicated personal data is voluntary, but necessary in order to receive the Newsletter (failure to provide such data will make it impossible to subscribe to the Newsletter).

The Controller will process the above-indicated personal data until an effective objection is raised or the purpose of the processing is achieved, or until the claims resulting from the Newsletter Provision

Agreement become time-barred (which ever occurs first).

COMPLAINT HANDLING

Provision of the above-indicated personal data is a condition for receiving a response to the complaint or exercising your rights under the Controller's liability provisions (provision of such data is voluntary, but failure to provide it will prevent you from receiving a response to the complaint and exercising the said rights).

The Controller will process the above-indicated personal data for the duration of the complaint procedure and in the case of exercising the aforementioned rights of yours - until they expire.

ENQUIRY RESPONSES

The provision of the above-indicated personal data is voluntary, but necessary in order to receive a response to an enquiry (failure to provide such data will prevent you from receiving a response).

The Controller will process the above-indicated personal data until an objection is successfully raised or the purpose of the processing is achieved (whichever occurs first).

WEBSITE ANALYTICS

The provision of the above-indicated personal data is voluntary, but necessary in order for the Controller to obtain information about your activity on the Website (failure to provide such data will result in the Controller's inability to obtain the said information).

The Controller will process the above-indicated personal data until you successfully raise an objection or the purpose of the processing is achieved.

WEBSITE FUNCTIONALITY

The provision of the above-indicated personal data is voluntary, but necessary in order to ensure the proper functioning of the Website (failure to provide such data will prevent proper functioning of the Website).

The Controller will process the above personal data until an objection is successfully raised or the purpose of the processing is achieved.

DATA PROTECTION COMPLIANCE

Provision of the above-indicated personal data is voluntary, but necessary for the Controller to properly perform its duties under data protection legislation, including the exercise of rights granted to you by the GDPR (failure to provide such data will result in the inability to properly exercise the said rights).

The Controller will process the above-indicated personal data until the expiry of the statute of limitations for claims for breach of data protection regulations.

LEGAL CLAIMS

Provision of the above-indicated personal data is voluntary, but necessary in order to establish, assert or defend against claims that may arise in connection with the performance of Agreements concluded with the Controller (failure to provide such data will result in the Controller's inability to undertake the said activities).

The Controller will process the above-indicated personal data until the expiry of the statute of limitations for claims which may arise in connection with the performance of Agreements concluded with the Controller.

DATA RECIPIENTS

The following third parties working with the Controller will be the recipients of the personal data:

- a) the hosting company;
- b) newsletter service provider;
- c) companies providing tools to analyze activity on the Website (including Google Analytics, Apollo);
- d) providers of solutions based on LLM language models (including Microsoft offering Azure Open AI Service).

In addition, personal data may also be transferred to public or private entities if such an obligation arises from generally applicable law, a final and non-appealable court judgment, or a final and non-appealable administrative decision.

INTERNATIONAL DATA TRANSFERS

In connection with the Controller's use of services provided by Google LLC, your personal data may be transferred to the following third countries: UK, Canada, USA, Chile, Brazil, Israel, Saudi Arabia, Qatar, India, China, South Korea, Japan, Singapore, Taiwan (Republic of China), Indonesia and Australia. The basis for the transfer of data to the aforementioned third countries is:

- in the case of the UK, Canada, Israel, Japan and South Korea, decisions of the European Commission finding an adequate level of protection for personal data in each of the aforementioned third countries;
- in the case of the USA, Commission Implementing Decision (EU) 2023/1795 of 10 July 2023 pursuant to Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council, finding an adequate level of protection for personal data provided under the EU-US data protection framework;
- in the case of Chile, Brazil, Saudi Arabia, Qatar, India, China, Singapore, Taiwan (Republic of China), Indonesia and Australia, contractual clauses providing an adequate level of protection, in line with the standard contractual clauses set out in Commission Implementing Decision (EU) 2021/914 of 4 June 2021 on standard contractual clauses for the transfer of personal data to third countries under Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council.

You may obtain a copy of data transferred to a third country from the Controller.

YOUR RIGHTS

In relation to the processing of personal data, you have the following rights:

- 1) the right to be informed which personal data pertaining to you are processed by the Controller and to receive a copy of such data (the so-called right of access). The issue of the first copy of the data is free of charge, for subsequent copies the Controller may charge a fee;
 - 2) if the data processed become outdated or incomplete (or otherwise incorrect) you have the right to request rectification;
 - 3) in certain situations you may request the Controller to delete your personal data, e.g. when:
 - a) the Controller no longer needs the data for the purposes communicated by it;
 - b) you have effectively withdrawn your consent to data processing
- unless the Controller is entitled to process the data on another legal basis;
- c) the processing is unlawful;
 - d) the need to delete the data arises from a legal obligation on the Controller;

- 4) where your personal data is processed by the Controller on the basis of your consent to the processing or for the purpose of performing an Agreement with the Controller, you have the right to transfer your data to another controller;
- 5) where your personal data is processed by the Controller on the basis of your consent to the processing, you have the right to withdraw that consent at any time (withdrawal of the consent does not affect the lawfulness of the processing carried out on the basis of the consent before its withdrawal);
- 6) if you consider that the processed personal data is incorrect, its processing is unlawful, or the Controller no longer needs certain data, you may request that for a certain, necessary period of time (e.g. to verify the correctness of the data or to assert claims) the Controller refrain from performing any operations on the data, but only store them;
- 7) you have the right to object to the processing of your personal data based on the Controller's legitimate interests. If you successfully lodge an objection, the Controller will stop processing your personal data for the aforementioned purpose;
- 8) you have the right to lodge a complaint with the President of the Personal Data Protection Office if you consider that the processing of your personal data violates the provisions of the GDPR.

COOKIES POLICY
